As part of Carillion & Portsmouth QA hospital ongoing collaboration with the local community, Tizzy Bowman & Caroline Ruler went to Highbury College, Northarbour, Portsmouth to assist the CITB & EBP in a Masterclass event for four local schools. Also on the team was Matthew Snell a Year 11 student from Isleworth & Syon School in Brentford who was on a two-week work experience placement at Carillion Building, Westlink House. 60 students attended for the day.

The students were split into teams for the "Morrisons City Game". The teams had to plan six housing estates, a shopping centre, a bridge & associated services on an A3 piece of pre-printed paper. They had to commission site surveys, cost the whole thing & then the "site Agent" had the responsibility of placing the housing estates etc. on a board. Marks were gained & lost due to timing, adherence to the rules & the amount of time they had taken to complete the job. Matthew, the work experience student's team won & received a goody bag from the CITB.

In the afternoon the students had a brief Careers in Construction presentation from Carillion & then went to Masterclasses for things such as cabinet makers etc.
